

I am writing in regard to NAB's petition 04-160.
As a subscriber to XM satellite radio, I am rather distraught that the FCC would even consider such a petition.

The XM radio service provides weather and traffic information that is unmatched by local radio. Not only is the service useful to me, it is also a service that I am willing to pay for.

I urge you to allow XM and similar services to continue providing enhanced services to customers who are willing to purchase them, and to stop stifling competition.
